About The Seminar

The topic “India’s Drive Towards Viksit Bharat @2047: In the Perspective of Global Complexities and Challenges” reflects India’s ambitious vision of transforming itself into a fully developed, self-reliant, and globally leading nation by the year 2047, marking 100 years of independence. This vision encompasses not only economic prosperity but also social inclusion, technological advancement, environmental sustainability, and good governance. As India moves forward on this path, it faces a rapidly changing global scenario marked by geopolitical tensions, climate change, economic uncertainties, technological disruptions, and shifting power dynamics. These global complexities pose significant challenges but also open vast opportunities for India to strengthen its global leadership, especially in areas such as renewable energy, digital innovation, sustainable development, and democratic governance. The realization of Viksit Bharat @2047 demands a holistic approach that integrates economic reforms, social justice, and international cooperation, while preserving India’s cultural heritage and democratic ideals. It calls for collective effort from all sectors of society government, industry, academia, and citizens to build a strong, inclusive, and resilient India capable of navigating global challenges and shaping a prosperous and equitable future for all.

The seminar will aim to generate meaningful discussions and valuable insights into India’s developmental vision and strategies. It will seek to enhance participants understanding of the Viksit Bharat mission, identify key challenges and opportunities arising from global complexities, and suggest effective policy measures for inclusive and sustainable growth. The seminar will encourage interdisciplinary research, academic collaboration, and active participation of youth in nation-building. It will also promote awareness about the importance of innovation, technology, and sustainability in achieving national progress. Overall, the seminar will serve as a dynamic platform to exchange ideas, strengthen institutional networks, and contribute to formulating actionable recommendations that will guide India’s journey towards becoming a developed and self-reliant nation by 2047.

Objectives of the Seminar

- To analyze India's strategies for achieving Viksit Bharat by 2047.
- To examine the role of governance, education, economy, and innovation.
- To deliberate on global challenges that shape India's progress.
- To encourage academic and policy-oriented discussions.
